Early ID

– FTI Future Women & Diverse Leaders Forum

– Interactive experience that brings together the top performing, brightest and most diverse college students nationwide. Typically held in person in locations like Atlanta, Denver, DC, Dallas or NY to Denver, CO each July and Atlanta, GA each January. The program includes hands-on learning activities, networking with our global leaders and the ability to interview on-site. We are focused on Freshmen, Sophomores and Juniors from groups historically underrepresented in the consulting industry.

– FTI Future Leaders Internship

– An immersive, highly selective rotational internship program for the next generation of diverse talent. This program is uniquely designed for exemplary rising sophomore or junior university students who self-select as female or historically underrepresented in the consulting industry. Join the Future Leaders internship program to work with leading experts on high-profile engagements that impact history while learning about all the many opportunities that exist at FTI. At the end of the internship if extended an offer to return, you will select the desired practice to return in the following summer.

FTI Internship Program

From your first day, you will be part of one of our high-performing teams allowing you to gain exposure to our business and clients. You will experience working on projects and develop important skills that will stick with you throughout your career. Throughout your internship, you will receive regular feedback, guidance, and coaching from our professionals to help you develop the skills you need to succeed. Our FTI Internship Program, our traditional internship for rising seniors, takes place the summer between your junior and senior year. Should you seek education higher than undergraduate you would be eligible for a traditional internship the summer prior to your final year of schooling.

FTI Consultant

At FTI Consulting, you work with leading experts on high-profile engagements that impact history. We have an open and collaborative culture that is committed to valuing diversity, recognition, professional development, and making a difference in our communities. You'll grow your skillset and receive regular feedback, guidance, and coaching from our professionals to help you develop the skills you need to succeed. You are eligible to apply for a consultant opportunity if you are in your final year of schooling. MBA students are eligible to apply for Senior Consultant positions during their second year of the MBA program.
